

Here, we still have a vacancy. One that we've kept open for you. If you're looking for a graduation thesis subject, some practical experience or a launch pad for your career, KSPG is the place to be. We can offer you exciting projects, a job with a future, and opportunities to get to know our locations abroad. Sounds interesting? Then take a seat. www.kspg.com

On 1 Mai 2014 we would like you to join us as

International Trainee (permanent contract, 6 months training phase)

Your profile:

- BA/MA degree in Engineering (preferably Industrial Engineering & Management, Automotive/Engine Engineering, Electrical Engineering) or Business Administration
- International mobility
- Fluent English skills, other language skills (German, Chinese, Spanish, French, Italian, Indian languages) would be an asset
- International competencies and experience
- Affinity to automotive industry desirable
- Project management experience advantageous
- Autonomous self-starter and out-of-the-box thinker with a focus on results and hands-on mentality

Our offer:

- You have successfully completed your studies and want to strike out on the path towards an international career
- You can imagine yourself working in internationally mixed teams on projects around the globe across time zones
- We offer a full time employment from day one with a permanent contract
- In the first six months you get to know different departments and facilities of the KSPG group during several project assignments
- You have budget responsibility including your travel budget
- You have the chance to prove yourself to the departments and you can find out which area suits you best

Apply stating your salary expectations by January 15, 2014.

With around 2,200 employees worldwide, Pierburg specializes in emission-control and air-management systems, throttle bodies as well as solenoid valves. Our customers include all the world-renowned automotive names. Here we have four business areas: Commercial Diesel Systems, Actuators, Automotive Emission Systems, and Solenoid Valves. Pierburg GmbH is a member of the KSPG Group which has a worldwide workforce of about 11,000 and generates annual sales of some 2.4 billion.